Verità Vodka Italiana is a true Italian Vodka crafted with 100% Italian wheat and mountain springwater from the Alps. Initially triple distilled, Verità goes through a final, fourth distillation in an antique, wood-fired bain-marie still. The final product is never chill filtered, which results in a smooth and refreshing vodka with a clarity that mirrors its pristine place of origin.

Verità is crafted exclusively for Dalla Terra by Distilleria dell'Alpe, which is nestled in the Italian Alps and owned by the Beniamino Maschio family who have generations of experience in distillation of traditional grappa, aperitivi and digestivi.

When one thinks of Vodka, Italy may not readily come to mind, but the country has a centuries-long distilling culture founded on their need to produce neutral grain spirits to anchor the wide array of unique and special products they produce - from Gin to Vermouth to Amari. Elevating the pure base distillate to a high quality, un-adulterated product for mixology or for chilled, straight sipping, is deep-rooted in the country's distillate heritage.
